BALTIMOFE, MARCH 27, 1853.

DR. JAYNE: Dear Sir: You ask me what proofs I meet with ci the clicacy of you medicine. I can safely say that I never prescribed a medicine for bowel complaints that has given me so much satisfaction, and my patients so speedy and perfect relief as this. Whenever introduced into ferring exeminating pain but in many instances rescued them from the same a standing remedy for these ailments. speedy and perfect relief as his. Whenever introduced into a family, it becomes a standing remedy for those silments, and is called for again and again, which I think a pretty good proof of its efficacy and usefulness. In the summer complaints of children it has frequently appeared to snatch the little victims, as it were, from the grave, "It saved the life of my child, and of such and such a child," saved the life of my child, and of such and such a child, I have repeatedly heard said. In dysenteric affections of adults, I have time and again seen it act like a charm, and give permanent relief in a few hours, I may say in a few minutes. In fine it is a valuable medicine, and no family should be without it. M. L. KNAPP, M. D.

From Dr. Wm. Steeling, Physician to the Cumberland, N. J. Almshouse.

BRIDGETOWN, JULY 19, 1836. This may certify that I have used Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam very extensively in bowel complaints, and have not the least hesitation in declaring it superior to any preparation that I have met with for the relief of those diseases.

NEW YORK, MAY 20, 1837. DR. D. JAYNE: DEAR SIR: Having made use of your Carminative Balsam in my family, and finding it to be admirably adapted to the complaints for which it is intended, I take pleasure in recommending it to the use of my friends and the Public generally, believing those who are afflicted with any of these complaints will find relief in the use of this valuable medicine.

Germantown. April 30, 1838.

Dr. Jayne: My Dear Sir: It gives me pleasure to communicate in this manner, my favorable opinion of your Carminative Balsam. For two years it has been in almost constant use in my family. It was thus introduced: A child of five years old had been sick some five or six days with the dysentery. Calomel and other medicines had been largely administered, but without the least apparent benefit. The peculiar discharges from the bowels were unchanged in both character and frequency; the strength of the little patient could not hold out much longer. At this juncture, I was reminded by a friend of your Balsam. After a portion of caster oil, it was administered several times through the night. In the morning, the physician found the discharges essentiant. town Collegiate Institute. the morning, the physician found the discharges essenti ally changed; the disease was checked, nay, removed; all other medicines were discontinued, and the child was soon restored to usual health. We have ever since kept this invaluable medicine on hand, and for both adults and children have found it uniformly efficacious. We readily pronounce it the best adapted to family use of all the I remain yours. &c

The Blood has hitherto been considered by Empiricks and others, as the great regulator of the human system, and such is the devotedness of the adherants to that erroneous doctrine, that they content themselves with the simple possession of this fallacious opinion, without ensupple possession of this falfactous opinion, without enquiring into the primary sources from whence Life, Health and Vigor eminate, and vice versa, pain, sickness, isease and death. Not so with Dr. Hunt, whose extensive research and practical experience so eminently qualify him for the profession of which he has been one of the most useful members. He contends—and a mements reflection will convince any reasoning mind of the cor-rectness of his views-that the stomach, liver, and associated organs are the primary and great regulators of health, and that the blood in very many instances is de-pendent on these organs, and that unless medicine reaches THE ROOT OF THE DISEASE, the superficial anodynes usually prescribed, serve but as foils to cover the ravages of deeprooted unitadies. Under these convictions, at the expense of years of close application, the doctor has discovered a medicine whose searching powers are irresistible, and in prescribing, it is with knowledge of its being a radical cure in the various diseases already enumerated, even if applied in the most critical cases, but he does not pretend to ascribe to Hunt's Botanic Phils a supernatural agency, although from positive proofs within the knowledge of hundreds, he is prepared to show, that when every other earthly remedy has been given up. HUNT'S BOTANIC PHILS have never been known to fail in effecting two very gratifying results, that of raising from the bed of sickness and disease those who have tested their efficacy, and thus amply rewarding Dr. Hunt for his long and anxious study to attain this perfection in the healing art given up.
